Brand story:

For over 30 years, Hugh Maguire Butchers and Smokehouse has been crafting premium Irish meat products in Co. Meath, built on heritage, provenance and traditional butchery.

Using legacy family recipes, our sausages, puddings and smoked products are carefully crafted and developed using quality Irish meat, delivering the rich, full flavour customers expect from a true Irish butcher.

Today, we bring that same trusted craft to Irish hot counters and delis, made for operators who still care about where their meat comes from, because their customers do too and they can taste the difference.

In a crowded market, true Irish sourcing, flavour and consistency set the standard and that is where we stand apart.

A genuine Irish butcher's offering, built on a passion for flavour and provenance, made for today's counter.
